

Workshop Aims

- 1) to inform students about key security issues and equip them with the analytic tools to evaluate global policy proposals to address them;
- 2) to develop a self-sustaining network of students with competence and interest in security studies; and
- 3) to introduce students to careers in security policymaking in private and public sectors.

College Credit: One hour
Scholarships available

Summer Workshop in International Security

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign • June 5-10, 2016

Eligibility

Applicants should be rising sophomores or advanced undergraduates. Majors of all fields are encouraged to apply.

Application

Application deadline May 1, 2016.
Application can be found on-line at:

<http://publish.illinois.edu/acdis-international-security-workshop/application-fees/>

Fee

The fee is $1,500 to cover cost of instruction, lodging on campus, and all meals. Travel to and from the workshop is not included.

Program

ACDIS is proud to announce the fifth year of its Summer Workshop on International Security! Every summer, ACDIS brings together prominent experts and students from across the United States to the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign to examine international security issues. This workshop will offer students a deep understanding of U.S. strategy in Asia and the Middle East. The format will include formal lectures, simulations, and small research projects. ACDIS continues this successful program in summer 2016.

Theme:

U.S. Strategy in Asia and the Middle East

Since the Cold War, the United States has been closely engaged with Asia and the Middle East, whether through war or other types of policies. We will study the U.S. strategy in Asia and the Middle East starting from the Korean War, and consider alternative strategies for the United States and their implications.

ACDIS program in arms control & domestic and international security

<http://publish.illinois.edu/acdis-international-security-workshop/>