

LICENSING AGREEMENT

1. This Agreement sets forth the terms by which the University of Illinois Law Review (hereinafter referred to as the "Law Review") will publish "<Title" (hereinafter referred to as the "Article"), a piece authored by Author(s) (hereinafter referred to as the "Author(s)").
2. The copyright in the Article shall remain with you, and nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as an assignment of copyright to the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois (hereinafter referred to as the "University"). Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, all rights in the Article under the Copyright Act are held by you.
3. In consideration of the Law Review's publication of your Article, you grant to the University, on behalf of the Law Review, a royalty-free license to publish, reproduce, distribute, and display the Article in the Law Review and in any and all other media, now or hereafter known. This license shall be exclusive for a period of 18 months from the date of this Agreement, or six months from the date of first publication in the Law Review, whichever is shorter, and shall be nonexclusive for the remaining term of the copyright.
4. You also grant the University, on behalf of the Law Review, a royalty-free license to publish, reproduce, distribute, and display the Article in LexisNexis, Westlaw, Hein Online, and similar aggregated online collections. Such license shall be non-exclusive and shall continue in perpetuity. You agree that the Law Review shall not pay you any part of any royalties it receives from Hein, LexisNexis, Westlaw, or any other aggregator.
5. Notwithstanding Paragraph 3, you retain the right to post the Article on your web page or an open access online repository such as Social Science Research Network (SSRN) <http://www.ssrn.com>, provided that it is labeled as "forthcoming 2015 U. ILL. L. REV. ____."
6. In all other cases, except as provided by Paragraphs 5 and 9, you must obtain the Law Review's express written approval to publish the Article anywhere else during the period of the Law Review's exclusive license outlined in Paragraph 3.
7. The Author(s) shall have the right to authorize another party to reproduce and distribute the Article in a form, subject to Paragraph 6, other than those specified in Paragraphs 3 and 4, provided that such reproduction identifies the Author, the Law Review, the volume, the number of the first page, and the year of the Article's publication in the Law Review.
8. You represent and warrant the following, and understand that our acceptance of the Article is contingent on the accuracy of these representations and warranties, as determined by the Law Review in its sole discretion:
 - a. that you the Author(s) is the sole (joint) author of the Article and has the power to convey the rights granted in this Agreement;
 - b. that the Article is your original work and contains no plagiarism and does not violate, in whole or part, any existing copyright;
 - c. that you have not made, and will not make, any agreement that would be in conflict with this one;
 - d. that the Article has not been previously published in whole or in part in printed form, and will not be published, in whole or in part, in any manner that would violate the terms of Paragraphs 3, 4, and 5 of this Agreement;
 - e. that the Article does not defame any individual or entity, or infringe upon any individual's or entity's rights of privacy or publicity, or any individual's or entity's intellectual property or proprietary rights.
9. You agree that the issue of the Law Review in which the Article appears may be reproduced, distributed and displayed, in whole or in part, by nonprofit institutions for educational purposes, including distribution to students, provided that the copies are distributed at or below cost and that those copies identify the Author(s), the Law Review, the volume, the number of the first page, and the year of the Article's publication; you further agree that a notice stating that the Article may be so reproduced, distributed, and displayed by nonprofit institutions for educational purposes shall appear in the issue of the Law Review in which the Article appears.
10. In the case of any claim, action, or proceeding brought against the Law Review, the University of Illinois College of Law, and/or any of the University of Illinois' trustees, directors, departments, divisions, officers, agents, employees, students, or licensees (the “Indemnified Parties”) that includes allegations that would constitute a breach of any representation or warranty enumerated in this Agreement (including, without limitation, allegations of copyright infringement), you agree to indemnify, and hold harmless the Indemnified Parties from and against any costs, losses, damages, liabilities, expenses, demands and judgments, including court costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees, which may arise out of breach of such representations or warranties.

11. The Author(s) understands and agrees that the Article in this Agreement is subject to specified revision deadlines, and the Law Review retains the right to withdraw the Article from publication if all reasonable deadlines are not met. In such a scenario, this Agreement will be void.
12. The Author(s) authorizes the Law Review to edit and revise the Article prior to publication in the Journal, but the Article shall not be published by the Law Review unless it is acceptable in its final form to both the Author(s) and the Law Review.
13. You agree to release the Law Review, the University of Illinois College of Law, the University, and the University of Illinois’ trustees, directors, departments, divisions, officers, agents, employees, or students (the “Released Parties”), from any liability to you, your personal representatives, estate, heirs, next of kin, and assigns for any and all claims and causes of action that may arise in connection with this Agreement.
14. This Agreement constitutes the sole agreement between the Author(s) and the Law Review with respect to the publication and copyright of the Article. Any modifications of or additions to the terms of this Agreement shall be in writing.
