Our list has closed. We are "sold out" for tonight. We'll do it again.

Dinner is cooking. Who needs a warm meal with no dishes to wash? Pick up to-go dinner at the Pottsboro Library - Monday, February 22.

To-go dinner will be available at the Pottsboro Library for the first 100 people who call in their names. Bay-At-The-Lake is preparing steak fingers/mashed potatoes and beefy macaroni. You must be on the list to pick-up. We'll let you know time. No charge.... See More

Some people are melting snow, using water bottles, and of course still boiling water - just to have enough water to get by. But, some generous folks in Pottsbor... See More

Let's talk potties. With the snow melting, people need "flushing" water.

Thanks to A-1 Little John (Jim Copeland) there is a porta-potty available in the library parking lot.

A community member has offered to make his 275 gallon mobile water tank available for those who need for flushing.... See More

I was reminded of the song, "The More We Work Together," today as the Pottsboro community came together to help neighbors in need. Dianne Connery, the director of the Pottsboro Library messaged me yesterday to see if there was a way to get drinking water for the Pottsboro area residents. What started at 8 a.m. today was nothing short of amazing. City leaders, library leaders, school board members, chamber of commerce board members, Visions of Sugarplums leaders, other community leaders, business owners, and private citizens came together today to find containers, fill containers, distribute water, purchase water, deliver water, set up a porta-potty and warming center and help those in need in our community. I am in awe of the servant leadership I saw today. Thank you to all that helped today and will continue to help tomorrow, please forgive me if your name has been left off the list. If you see these people around town or visit their business please tell them how amazing they are. Because "The more we work together the happier we'll be. Cause your friends are my friends and my friends are your friends. The more we work together the happier we'll be!" Well water will be available from 11-3 today at the library. Bring containers with lids to take water home. Volunteers are planning to deliver to people who can't get to the library. Please message the address. If anyone has bottled water to donate, we would love to share it with those who are in need. Let us know what you need. The community wants to help.

POTTSBORO, Texas (KXII) - The Pottsboro Library is helping provide water to the community.

Library Director Dianne Connery spent Saturday passing out well water for people to flush their toilets.

Connery also set up a porta potty in the back of the library for residents to use.

She was passing out drinking water before running out earlier in the week.

"People were so appreciative today of just getting water to flush their toilets I mean so many people talked about it it is the little things in life that really matter in a situation like this," Connery said. "So as long as people keep contacting us with what their needs are we will somehow figure out how to make it work."
