

RESPONSIBLE CONDUCT OF RESEARCH (RCR) ADMINISTRATOR WORKSHOP: FOSTERING INTEGRITY THROUGH EFFECTIVE EDUCATION

2025 RCR Administrator Workshop

Guidance for Workshop Behavior and Creating Respectful Spaces

We offer the following guidelines to bolster the success of a conference that promotes positive research cultures. Our conference strives to create an environment in which everyone can feel secure in their active participation. During our discussions, it is important to fully engage and allow for disagreements while maintaining a respectful atmosphere. It is the hope of the organizing committee that all attendees share in a robust dialogue and emerge with best practices that can be applied to RCR education at their home campuses.

Opinions expressed by the speakers and participants are their own and do not necessarily reflect the views of their employer, the University of Illinois, or the Big Ten Academic Alliance.

All meeting participants agree to promote an collaborative discussion by observing the following:

1. Treat everyone respectfully. Be willing to listen and ask questions. Seek to understand all opinions.
2. Be accountable. Offering a constructive intervention or opinion might help during a tense discussion; offer your gracious input when needed.
3. It's okay to challenge the idea or practice being voiced--but not the person voicing them.

At our meeting, it is unacceptable to:

1. Record break-out discussions without authorization
2. Engage in verbal, written, or other forms of abuse of any attendee or speaker, including via social media. Examples include, but are not limited to:
 - a. Verbal comments related to title, gender, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, race, religion, national origin, and language proficiency
 - b. Targeting individuals in a way that could harm their privacy or professional status or open them to slander or libel
 - c. Disruption or disallowing participation by others
3. Violate copyright or re-post meeting materials and conversations (including Zoom chat) without permission of the presenter and conference planning committee.
