TRANSLATION STUDY ABROAD

TRANSLATION IN THE
EUROPEAN UNION

TRST 401(3 undergraduate credits, 4 graduate credits)
Summer 1 May 13-27, 2013

Location:

Paris, Strasbourg, Brussels

EU Commission, Directorate
General of Translation of the EC,
NATO, UNESCO,
European Parliament

Instructor:

Patricia Phillips-Batoma

The purpose of this two week intensive study abroad course is to expose students to the dynamics of the geo-political environment of the European Union and provide hands-on experience with the translator's role and responsibility as mediator and communicator in today's European multi-lingual and multi-cultural societies. It is open to undergraduate and graduate students in any major who are interested in pursuing the Certificate in Translation Studies. This course will be of particular interest to students in foreign languages, cultures, and linguistics, political science, international studies, European Union Studies, law and business. The program consists of behind-the-scenes visits to international agencies and cultural sites relevant to language and culture studies. Countries visited include Belgium and France. This experience can lead to internships in the EU. Can be taken separately from the on campus preparatory course (TRST 400) offered in Spring 2013.
